Science, the Origin of the Universe, and God

Where Faith and Science Align

All too often, science is employed as a means of disproving the tenants of Christianity. In this informative talk, Fr. Robert Spitzer, SJ – expert in physics, philosophy, and theology – debunks the incompatibility of science and Faith as he discusses the origin of the universe.

COLLABORATIVE NEWS & EVENTS

This week's second collection supports the Catholic Communication Campaign (CCC). If Jesus Christ were on earth today, how would he spread his message of salvation? Wouldn't he use all communication vehicles to share the Good News? The CCC believes Jesus would use as many means as possible, and that is why it supports projects that use the entire array of media tools available today to evangelize and promote Gospel values. Please visit www.usccb.org/catholic-giving/opportunities-for-giving/catholic-communication-campaign/index.cfm for more information. 50% of the collection remains at the parish to promote local communication efforts, such as website technology and bulletins.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL OF OUR RECENTLY CONFIRMED

On behalf of Father Bill Lohan, Father Joseph Marwa and all of our volunteers and staff, we are pleased to extend our congratulations and prayers to all of our young people who received the Sacrament of Confirmation at St. Monica and St. Lucy Parishes. We look forward to continuing to grow in faith with you through the years.

Thank you to St. Monica and St. Lucy Parishes and St. Monica School

I wanted to take this last column that I write to you as pastor to say thank you for your kindnesses to me over the 4 ½ years with you and 3 as your pastor. It is a humbling feeling for priests to be accepted so lovingly by the people in our assignments. We come as complete strangers but a trust is placed upon us quickly as the people still have a natural desire to trust and love their priests. The priest has the privilege of having a window into the ups and downs of his peoples' lives. He is with them at times of great joy, baptisms and weddings, school celebrations, but also there for the hard times as well. Counseling people that may be suffering for a whole host of reasons, being with people who are dying and their families. Of all the pastoral services a priest provides, for me to be with families in the time leading up to death and the period that follows is most meaningful. Several young people who died young and quite suddenly come to my heart as do spouses and siblings of folks who are very involved in our parish life. Recently I had dinner with a middle-aged parishioner who lost his wife several years ago and he told me that before she died she told him she would be very happy if he married again. She expressed this desire to her adult children as well. The priest is seen as someone who brings his faith into very difficult situations to help people and though that is certainly true, so often the priest finds his own faith strengthened by the faith he finds already there so strong in the people. The love which that dying woman showed to her husband is breathtaking and no doubt she could show it not only because of the love God placed in her heart but because of the love she had received over many years from her husband.

To all of those whom I have accompanied at the bedside of a dying loved one I want you to know that above all you have the first place in my heart as I go. It is a privilege that words cannot capture to be there at those moments. To offer funeral masses for you is an honor and a privilege that I find most humbling. We have so many friends in heaven now, and I believe as more of those we love go to God it should make heaven seem closer than in the past. As I look out and see you at Mass your loved ones and those memories of being with you enter my heart.

As for the daily life of the parish there are simply too many people that I can't thank everyone in this space individually. A little girl who was just a tiny infant when I arrived and is now a four-year old little girl comes to mind. Each time I see her smiling face I am reminded of the time that has passed since I arrived. I think of lunches in the cafeteria with the school kids and their beautiful questions and profound insights on the world expressed in children's language with, as Jesus would say, "no guile or duplicity." I think of the beautiful Christmas party we had with the homeless people lodged in the hotel by the highway, the amazing work of the St. Vincent DePaul Society to keep true to their mission even when some would take advantage unfairly. The amazing work of the Knights, the Sodality, the St Joseph's Men's Guild, and the Commission to help our Brothers and Sisters, and the dedication of our school teachers come to mind. I am especially thankful for Alpha, peoples' openness to it has strengthened faith of many who have participated. I go thankful for the opportunity to have served you and conscious that God's providence is at work in your lives and in mine. Through the intercession of St. Monica, St. Lucy and most especially Our Lady, may God bless you today and always.

A letter from one of our parents for Teacher Appreciation week (May 6-12, 2018):

Good Morning Teachers,

Now that I have an 8th grader, it looks like my family has had every teacher in the school in one way or another. Since this is Teacher Appreciation week, I felt it important to say a huge thanks to you all.

Sometimes when I am watching Jeopardy and one of my kids yells out an answer -- and it is CORRECT, I know that I never taught them that. Other times we'll be driving along and hear a news blurb on the radio about the rain forest. One of my children from the back seat starts telling me a detailed story about climate change. I'll ask where they got that and they'll answer, "I learned that in 5th grade". What an impact you have had on so many lives over the years!

It doesn't stop there. Not only do you have a curriculum to work through, you are the "moms" of the school day. You are also there for the "I don't feel good" days, for the "my shoelace is in a knot" times, the blank stare when you ask them why they did something, the "5th time I have talked to him/her about behavior and now I want to give up" times, and on and on . . . I am sure most of these "issues" were not taught when you were in College for teaching! But I know that you show these children who are not your own patience and compassion! I don't know how you do it!!!!

Thank you from the bottom of my heart for teaching my children countless things that I would have never been able to teach. Thank you for treating my kids with compassion and love throughout the years. Thank you for teaching my kids by setting great examples of kindness and respect through your actions. You are such amazing role models and I am so blessed that my children have been able to call you all their teachers!

With the greatest admiration,

Sandi Grenier
Ryan & Drew Grenier's mom

St. Monica PTO was proud to sponsor a Week of Thanks to our teachers and staff during Teacher Appreciation Week. We started with an Appreciation Station where students and parents were able to drop off or make a card for their teachers. Each day, the teachers were given a small token of our appreciation. The week ended with a lunch and receipt of books purchased by parents at the Book Fair for those classrooms. We reminded our amazing teachers and staff that we do not just appreciate them during that week, but always!
