BOOK RECOMMENDATION FOR THE WEEK

It is then very important to recognize, first of all, false devotions to our Blessed Lady, in order to avoid them, and true devotion, in order to embrace it; secondly, which of the many practices of true devotion to our Blessed Lady is the most perfect, the most agreeable to her, the most glorious to God, and the most sanctifying for ourselves, so that we may adopt that one. - St. Louis De Montfort, pg. 57/58, an excerpt from True Devotion to Mary (Publisher: Tan Books and Publishers, Inc., <https://smile.amazon.com>)

This book can be purchased at <https://smile.amazon.com>
If you purchase the book from this link and choose St. Monica School as the organization to support, 0.5% of your purchase will go to our school.

This week's second collection is for Catholic Relief Services. This collection supports emergency relief, human development, and peace initiatives in countries around the world. The funds from this Collection provide food to the hungry, services for victims of human trafficking, support to displaced refugees, and show Christ's love and respect to all people. The collection funds the ministries of six Catholic Church organizations: Catholic Relief Services (CRS), Catholic Legal Immigration Network, Inc. (CLINIC), Migration and Refugee Services (MRS), the Department of Justice, Peace, and Human Development, the Secretariat of Cultural Diversity in the Church, and the Holy Father's Relief Fund. For more information, please visit www.usccb.org/crscollection.

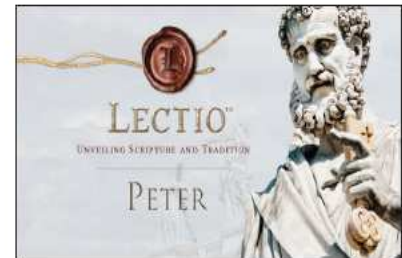

FORMED PICK OF THE WEEK

Lectio: Peter

Session 6: In the Shadow of the Galilean

The King,
the Kingdom,
and the Keys

Did Jesus really entrust His authority to a fisherman from Galilee? In this episode of his enlightening and engaging study on Saint Peter, Dr. Tim Gray unpacks Scripture to reveal Peter's critical role as a bridge between our King, Jesus Christ, and His Kingdom, the Church.

"I found myself enthralled in this particular lecture. I love the entire study and am learning a great deal . . . but this was by far my favorite so far."

HOLY MASS with Bishop Hennessey

October 20 at 4:00 p.m. in the church

"Let that go for now."

"Umm, we'll get to that."

"Let me get a little time under my belt, then we can decide."

These are, happily, my most frequent responses to questions that parishioners have asked, which if I answered, may create a change in how we operate here in the Methuen Collaborative. Actually, I say them even more to myself when I see something that could use a tweak. Of course, the staff doesn't feel that way, because they are experiencing a decent amount of change just because of who I am as a person. Also, as I mentioned in my first homily, I am keeping focused on the rectory, the office, and the sacristies just so I don't disrupt too many apple carts in parish life beyond what affects me directly.

It has always been part of the "advice to new pastors" that one should make changes very slowly, because the biggest change is the arrival of the new guy! The newness goes both ways, though, and yet I am happy to report that I'm relatively relaxed due to the slower pace of summer. However, my absence of tension has less to do with the season than the welcome I've received, your devotedness as parishioners, and the well-ordered functioning of both parishes. These factors have given me a great deal of freedom to just not worry about too much so far.

Another thing that is helping me to get settled in is that I'm beginning to see where I can make a contribution to the Catholic community of Methuen. The growing sense that the Lord brought me here for a reason certainly adds to a hopeful outlook on the future. If, like the sense of newness, the feeling that the new priests are a good fit here goes both ways (from priest to parishioner and back), then the future is truly hopeful. I'd like to thank Bishop Hennessey for officiating my installation as your new pastor, all of you for the wonderful welcome you have afforded Fr D'Onofrio and me, and, of course, God, for bringing us together.

As you prepare for the fall, maybe upgrading some of your family's current technology-perhaps you would consider donating your gently used tablet or IPAD to our youngest scholars!!

Our teachers are seeking the opportunity to connect with our students through various methodologies and having access to this interactive technology right in their classrooms will facilitate rigorous learning for individual students.

Please call Mrs. Donna Henderson, Principal, at 978-686-1801 if you are interested in donating or have any questions.

On behalf of the teachers and students, thank you for your consideration.
